Experience

Will commenced work with Kell Moore in July 2017 and had previously worked in a regional law firm in the areas of litigation, employment law, estate planning, property law and conveyancing.

Will has experience in litigation relating to securities enforcement (with particular exposure to Victorian and NSW Farm Debt Mediation schemes), negligence and contractual disputes.

Will has also been involved in various debt recovery and building and construction disputes, including security of payment adjudication.

Some of Will's recent matters include:

- Acting for a finance company in Supreme Court and Court of Appeal litigation concerning the enforcement of mortgages;
- Acting for small businesses in general commercial disputes;
- Acting in various property law matters including small subdivisions, residential conveyancing transactions and leasing;
- Advising on the sale and purchase of business;
- Advising on succession planning including effecting complex intergenerational transfers for agricultural entities;
- Administering estates; and
- Preparing and reviewing a variety of commercial contracts.
